
THE FOUR PILLARS OF COMMUNITY

A community is a group of people who communicate amongst each other and are unified in their ideas and values. When you move into a community you experience LESS violence, chaos, disorder and corruption.

This is the main difference between a community and a neighborhood. A neighborhood is NOT unified in their values and ideas. A neighborhood does not promote effective communication amongst each other. A neighborhood is a location where a group of people who are living next to you have no regard for unity.

Without a sense of caring, there can be no sense of community.
- Anthony J.
D'Angelo

If you are looking for a place to live search for a community, NOT a neighborhood. A community will look out for your family. A community will preserve its territory. A community will look after their neighbor.

Every community has four pillars that create its environment.

1. SUPERMARKET: Every community should have a Supermarket in the area. Why? Because you need a way to feed the people.
2. SCHOOL: Every community should have a school in the area. Why? Because you need a way to teach the people.
3. HOSPITAL: Every community should have a Hospital. Why? Because you need a way to save the people when they get sick.
4. BANKING: Every community should have a bank. Why? Because you need a way to invest in the people.

These four pillars promote UNITY and COMMUNICATION. People unite to protect the resources of their community. People talk amongst each other to build upon the resources of their communities. Unfortunately, neighborhoods do not have this camaraderie.

The probability of families THRIVING when they are living in a COMMUNITY is extremely high. The probability of families DECLINING when they are living in a NEIGHBORHOOD is extremely high. When making a decision to move to a new location search for communities, NOT neighborhoods.
