
GENERATIONAL MINISTRY

The silent generation had no opportunities but they had an abundance of wisdom. The baby boomer generation had no equality in society but they had an abundance of inner strength and courage. The millennial generation lacks wisdom but they have an abundance of resources to utilize at their disposal.

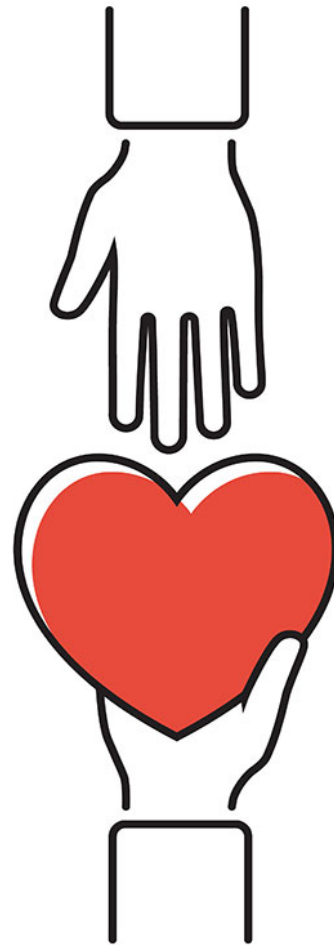

Every generation comes equipped with something vital while also lacking something essential. No generation has been given everything to work with.

Understanding this will help you to minister and help people in the way that benefits them most.

The purpose of ministry is to SERVE the needs of the people. The best server understands the needs of the person they are helping. A millennial needs wisdom. A baby boomer needs resources. The silent generation needs strength.

The reason King Jesus was effective in ministry while He was walking the earth was because he understood the wisdom of generations. When you give people what they NEED they will come back for more.

Ministry is a tailored made experience for each person. It is not a cookie cutter program. This is why ministry is WORK. It requires study, dedication and extreme discernment. When you are walking in your assignment, DISCERN who you are talking to so you can SERVE them effectively!
